6. Remarks and Other Relevant Information:

Owner intends to convert the berry growing operation from spray irrigation to drip irrigation making the use of water significantly more efficient. The request is to allow the use of the conserved water on an additional 78.06 acres adjacent to the current irrigated berry fields.

Attached documentation demonstrates that the conversion to drip irrigation methods will conserve 50% of the water used under spray irrigation. This amounts to 100 acre feet of water per year of that allocated under water right G2-21724C.

Using the current drip irrigation demand per acre, the conserved water would be sufficient for irrigation of an additional 100 acres using drip irrigation methods without expansion of the allocated water under water right G2-21724C. The additional acreage will also be served by the owners other water right G2-09219C

IF FOR SEASONAL OR TEMPORARY, START DATE 04/01/ END DATE 10/31/
